Introduction of National Taiwan University

Why NTU

Taipei, the capital of Taiwan, is one of the most unique cities in the Chinese speaking world. It is not only for its 400-year history, but also for its modernity, democracy and free atmosphere. The city combines rich traditions with advanced technology and thoughts. It is a city that merges eastern and western culture. In this conflict and harmony, Taipei shows its charm, vitality and diversity. For students who choose Taipei to carry out their study, they will learn to be more interculturally sensitive by living in such a multicultural and dynamic city. At the same time, a top-ranking university such as National Taiwan University (NTU) will help shape students into intellectuals with insight and vision.

As one of the most prestigious and comprehensive universities in Taiwan, NTU plays an important role in developing Taipei, Taiwan and the people. NTU has been an incubator for top intellectuals, outstanding scholars and excellent researchers in every field in Taiwan.

NTU Past, Present and Future

National Taiwan University (NTU) was founded by the Japanese in 1928 as Taihoku (Taipei) Imperial University. After World War II, the ROC government resumed the administration of Taihoku Imperial University, reorganized it and renamed it "National Taiwan University" in 1945.

Currently, the university has 11 colleges, 54 undergraduate departments, and 99 graduate institutes offering 98 Master and 88 PhD programs. The number of students reached a total of 32,055 in 2006, including those from the division of Continuing Education & Professional Development. The ratio of students registering for Bachelor's, Master's and PhD programs is 4:2:1. The total number of faculty members is 3054, among them, 973 are full-time professors. The number of international students is more than 400, coming from more than 50 different countries all over the world.

In order to promote international competitiveness, NTU is actively expanding its international intake, extending more partnerships with top universities in the world, and increasing cooperation in the areas of student exchange, faculty exchange, and dual degree programs.

Academics

The 11 colleges of the university are: College of Liberal Arts, College of Science, College of Social Sciences, College of Medicine, College of Engineering, College of Bio-Resources & Agriculture, College of Management, College of Public Health, College of Electrical Engineering & Computer Science, College of Law, and College of Life Science. In addition to these colleges, research centers at NTU are also dedicated to academic development; there are national research centers as well as first tier research units. By participating in research projects conducted by professors, students also have the chance to carry out researches with support from the research centers. The national research centers at NTU are: Earthquake Engineering Research Center, Ocean Research Center, Nano Electromechanical System Research Center, Humanities Research Center and Disaster Research Center.

Please visit our website for more details: <http://www.ntu.edu.tw/>

Campus Location and Area

The total area of NTU is about 1% of the total territory of Taiwan. It is mainly distributed between the Main Campus in Gong-guan, Taipei, the College of Law on Hsu-chou Road, the College of Medicine Campus and the affiliated NTU hospital on Jen-ai Road, the Experimental Farm at An-keng, the Experimental Forest and Highland Farm at Nan-tou, the Yi-lan Campus, the Hsin-chu Campus, and the Yun-lin Campus. Among them, the Main Campus, Law Campus, and Medicine Campus are the main teaching campuses located in the center of Taipei city. The rest are mainly for research and experiment purposes. The following is a brief introduction to the Main Campus:

On-campus Environment

Main Campus

Like a green park situated in the metropolitan Taipei City, the main campus enjoys the great privilege of tranquility and nature. Although

Agricultural Economics Master Program Graduate Institute of Agricultural Economics

NTU is one of the oldest universities in Taiwan, we insist on providing most advanced and modern facilities to our students. Both the Main Library (1998) and the Sports Center (2001) are newly built, and a campus-wide wireless network connection has also been installed.

Main Library

There are several libraries on different campuses with a total collection of 3 million volumes. The Main Library provides books, periodicals, pamphlets, ancient books and audiovisual materials in a wide range of fields. For example, there are about 2,600 kinds of periodicals, more than 100 newspapers from all over the world and more than 30,000 electronic materials. The volumes of ancient and rare books amount to 50,000. At present, the Main Library owns the largest collection in Taiwan.

The Main Library has been designated as one of the official repositories of government publications and it maintains agreements to exchange publications with over 2,000 academic and research institutions in over 60 countries.

Sports Center

The Sports Center is equipped with various modern facilities, such as a main court, a general court, an indoor swimming pool, a gym, a table tennis room, a squash court, a martial arts room, a dance room, an aerobic room, a judo room and an international conference hall. It satisfies students' needs and interests.

Computer and Information Networking Center (C&INC)

The C&INC offers services in E-mail account application, Webmail maintenance, computer courses, and classrooms for distance education. The center is also in charge of the entire campus network, including the dormitory network, wireless network, TANet/11, Tanet2/12, NTU Proxy, NTU Net News, ADSL, VPN and Dial-up network connection.

Off-campus Environment

Taipei city is surrounded by the Tanshui and Keelung Rivers. There are highly concentrated highway and railway networks, and a convenient Mass Rapid Transit System (MRT). NTU is easily accessible from all corners of the city. The famous Yangmingshan National Park in northern Taipei is about one hour away by car. Taipei offers its inhabitants the convenience of metropolitan civilization as well as the relaxed atmosphere of nature.

I . Introduction of the Agricultural Economics Master Program

Program Overview

The Agricultural Economics Master Program is a multifaceted effort of the Department of Agricultural Economics, the College of Bio-Resources and Agriculture, National Taiwan University and Taiwan International Cooperation and Development Fund (TaiwanICDF). The program is under the Graduate Institute of Agricultural Economics.

Agricultural development is the crucial factor for a country's broad-based development, especially for the developing countries. The unique experience of agricultural development in Taiwan can be used as a reference and model for these countries.

Students learning agricultural economics expertise and agri-business management skills throughout the program will be well prepared to engage in entry-level management, agricultural production, marketing, and finance positions offered by private firms as well as public sector related to agriculture.

The program will also enhance students' grasp of important issues and problems of agriculture, which in turn helps foster their potential for leadership in agricultural policy and agribusiness management.

Program Objectives

- Cultivating superior agricultural policy-makers and managers.
- Enhancing international students' grasp of important issues in agriculture, and to help foster their potential for leadership in agricultural policy and agribusiness management.
- Helping our university respond to the need for internationalization and to maintain its standards of excellence.

Scope of Curriculum

- The curriculum is grouped into four major categories: Agricultural Policy, Institutions and Regulations; Agricultural Marketing, Trade and Consumption; Production Economics and Management; and “Resources and Environmental Economics.” The courses include Agribusiness Management, Agricultural Trade, Agricultural Policy Analysis, Agricultural Development, Agricultural Marketing, Efficiency and Productivity Analysis, Applied Microeconomics, Advanced Macroeconomics etc.
- Students are required to complete 31 credits including six credits of thesis.

Requirements	Credit	Schedule
