

has no choice": The Cardinal who support

RIPT

NEWS VIDEOS PODCASTS LIFESTYLE COMMENT CULTURE

Taiwan is Helping – The Taiwanese Community in Ireland Rises to COVID-19 Challenge

Posted by Gary Kavanagh | May 17, 2020 | Irish News

Since the beginning of the COVID-19 outbreak we've been hearing more and more in the news about Taiwan, a small island nation about 200 km off the south-eastern coast of mainland China. Mostly we've been hearing about the geopolitical significance of Taiwan, its history with the Communist Party of China, and the failure of the WHO to recognize Taiwan and the damage that may have done to the world's ability to respond effectively to COVID-19.

SEARCH ...

CONTACT US

Send us news, tips and blogs: news@gript.ie

SUPPORT GRIPT

Gript depends on the support of its readers.

If you believe in challenging the consensus, facilitating debate, and delivering news and analysis without the liberal filter, please consider making a donation.

What we haven't heard much about is the fact that Ireland, like many other countries, has a long-established, albeit small, Taiwanese community of its own. And that community, which numbers about 1,000 people, has, under the banner of the Taiwan Ireland Association [TIA], been very quietly working to help the Irish people over the past months.

Since March the Taiwanese community in Ireland has privately fundraised the purchase of nearly 20,000 pieces of PPE which they have donated both to isolated elderly people living on their own, and Irish nursing homes and other long-term care facilities all across the country. The donations have mostly come from Taiwanese people living in Ireland and their families, but donations have also come in from the wider Taiwanese community and from Irish people currently living in Taiwan.

Julien Thibault, who moved to Ireland nearly 20 years ago, is, along with his wife Dr Angel Cheng, one of the main organizers of the community's donations. He was keen to stress that the donations aren't due to any one person, but rather the Taiwanese community in Ireland as a whole, saying, "This is happening due to the Taiwanese community, not me. I helped organize it but we wouldn't have been able to do this without the community. We found people to help through the community; we found people in need through the community; and we found people to distribute masks and PPE through the community."

And that is a point that everyone we talked to was keen to stress. TIA coordinates with the Taiwanese Representative Office in Ireland, but the money they're raising is coming from private individuals and not the Taiwanese government. Even Pierre Yang, the Taiwanese Representative to Ireland, and his family donated in a private, not professional, capacity. Talking to people on the ground one very quickly gets the sense that this is a community

POLLS

Would you prefer a FF/FG/Green coalition or a second election after the virus crisis?

Coalition Government

Second Election

VOTE

View Results

RELATED POSTS

Taiwanese community donates PPE to Irish nursing homes

John Waters and Gemma O'Doherty challenge Covid-19...

effort to support the Irish people based on the Taiwanese community's regard for the Irish people.

Tony Liu, a Taiwanese exchange student who came to Sligo in January of this year, has been working with TIA to distribute the donated PPE. He told us that he was proud of the help he could provide, and that, despite only being in Ireland since January, "the people of Sligo have welcomed me into their community. They've greeted me and they've helped me. The people of Sligo remind me of the people in my hometown in Taiwan" and that, "when I got the chance, I wanted to help them and show them my appreciation for the welcome they gave me."

Tony's comments were a common theme amongst the members of the Taiwanese community that we talked to. All expressed an admiration for the Irish people, a humility at what they saw as the small ways in which they could help, and a quiet pride at having helped in some way. According to Tony the community wants to show people that, "we are not just saying Taiwan can help, we are really helping."

My country was ignored by the

CATEGORIES

Comment +

Culture

Editorial

FEATURED

Featured Picks

Lifestyle +

News +

Podcast

Reports

Videos

Why I left the Left

RECENT POSTS

UK Police: We're investigating a man for kissing a woman on the cheek

Was the science

behind lockdown total garbage?

🌀 Dr. Ronan Cleary: Vatican & nuns must answer for facilitating abortions in land 'gift' to hospital worth €200m

🌀 Man on 50th day of prison hunger strike over rape conviction

🌀 Taiwan is Helping - The Taiwanese Community in Ireland Rises to COVID-19 Challenge

SHARE: f t g+ t p in ≡ s

✉ 🖨

< PREVIOUS

NEXT >

Hungary's abortion rate plummets as new family policies are brought in: No income taxes for women with 4 kids

Man on 50th day of prison hunger strike over rape conviction

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Gary Kavanagh

ARCHIVE S

🌀 May 2020

🌀 April 2020

🌀 March 2020

🌀 February 2020

🌀 January 2020

🌀 December 2019

🌀 November 2019

Gary Kavanagh is the Director of the Edmund Burke Institute, which works to promote free markets. He can be reached at gary@gript.ie and on Twitter at @G_L_Kavanagh.

 October 2019

 September 2019

 August 2019

 July 2019

 June 2019

 May 2019

 March 2019

RELATED POSTS

15 Italians who were in Ireland test positive for Coronavirus on return to Italy

March 19, 2020

Multiple members of the executive of the USI offered aid and support to extremist group.

March 10, 2020

Another day of carnage in the health service as Harris faces confidence vote

January 10, 2020

Was the Cork Garage fire caused by an electric car?

September 2, 2019

0 Comments

Gript

Privacy Policy

Login

Recommend

Tweet

Share

Sort by Newest

Start the discussion...

LOG IN WITH

OR SIGN UP WITH DISQUS

Name

Be the first to comment.

Subscribe Add Disqus to your site Add Disqus Add

Do Not Sell My Data

Support Gript

Gript depends on the support of its readers. If you believe in challenging the consensus, facilitating debate, and delivering news and analysis without the liberal filter, please consider making a donation.

DONATE

Subscribe to our newsletter to receive our weekly news bulletin of the week's most popular news.

NAME

EMAIL

Sign up now!

We take your privacy seriously. No spam. See our terms & privacy here.

© 2019 Copyright Gript

Home About Privacy Policy Cookie Policy Comment Policy

